NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—The impact of television on our national life—and habits—is illustrated in a study of water plant operations in Toledo, O.

For some months, water engineers were puzzled by peak loads in water consumption, which occurred every half-hour. Finally, the engineers concluded that television was responsible. Homeowners watching television, waited until the commercial and then made a mass rush for the powder room.

Which is the best argument we know for newspaper advertising.

We made a quick check with Glenn Czar at the Dixon Water Co. to see if such things were occurring in the local plant and he produced some charts which contained a few suspicious lines but nothing that would indicate that Dixonites are following the pattern of the Ohioans.

It may well be that Hooper ratings will be supplanted by water charts, with the TV star's popularity being measured in gallons! Who knows?

They've finally got Tom Cawley—but good. The LaSalle gambling house czar, who for years has defied law and virtually set his own terms in LaSalle county, will get his hearing in court Monday on a charge of possession of gambling paraphernalia.

His court appearance is the result of work by a honest prosecutor, Harland Warren, who personally walked in the Cawley establishment with a few hand-picked deputies and put the pinch on dear Tom.

The Ottawa Republican-Times, a supporter of Warren and of a campaign to rid the county of law-breaking elements, heralded the event with a banner reading: "HOW THE MIGHTY HAVE FALLEN!"

The lead paragraph reflected the Rep-Times' exultation. It read: "Thomas J. Cawley, one-time street car operator, who, with the help of (to be kind) blindness on the part of the city and county officials, has built himself one of the largest fortunes in LaSalle county, was told in an Ottawa court, in effect, 'You, sir, are a common criminal.'"

Appearing also on the Rep-Times' page one was a picture of the exterior of the Cawley establishment wreathed in broad, black rules symbolic of its death.

Adding insult to injury, when Cawley was given a preliminary hearing in an Ottawa magistrate's court, Warren requested that he post a cash bond of $6,000, $2,000 each for his nephew, Ryan, and William Brady, an employee, all named in warrants. Cawley's attorney (his son, Pat) proffered the court a check for the amount but Warren insisted on cash. This was an insult to Cawley who can buy and sell of LaSalle practically as he pleases.

Winston McReynolds, Dixon, who was a last-minute fill-in speaker at the recent World Day of Prayer program in the Church of the Brethren last Friday, is still receiving commendations for his forthright talk. McReynolds took the opportunity to "lay it on the line" regarding racial prejudices in this locality. As one local pastor described it, "I sat there enthralled."

The Goodfellow club, which operates the year around, has made it known that it can use a long list of household articles. Members are always able to place furniture, bedding, household utensils and good used clothing with needy families. At the present time there is an urgent need for room heaters and baby beds. Clothing and small articles may be left at the Dixon Evening Telegraph. Those who have furniture to donate may phone Mrs. William Hubbell (2-8601) or Mrs. Lyle Melvin (3-5257).

Dixon, Oregon Soldiers Due to Arrive in U. S.

SEATTLE—Dixon and Oregon soldiers were among the 2,801 army troops expected to arrive here today from the Far East aboard the Navy transport, Marine Adner.

Ernest R. Brooks, 119 First st., Dixon, and Robert L. Taylor, 135 1/2 South Fourth st., Oregon, arrived in this country under the army rotation plan.

Propose New State Driver's License Law

Carpentier Preparing 'Stiff' Act

Secretary of State Would Get Power To Suspend Permits

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(P)—A much stricter state driver's license law is being drafted by Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier for presentation to the Illinois general assembly.

In its present form, the Carpentier proposal would empower the secretary of state to suspend a driver's license without preliminary hearing for "good cause," as in the case of a hit and run traffic offense involving a death.

There would be provisions for review of the action within 20 days by a hearing board, and ultimately by the courts.

Carpentier outlined his thinking to a reporter Thursday and subordinates sketched in details of his plan.

Model Act
The proposed new law would be patterned after the model act recommended by the National Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators. It would represent a complete rewrite of the existing statute.

Besides the enlarged suspension power for the secretary of state, the new plan would have these main provisions:

1. Driver's license examining functions, now divided between the secretary of state's office and the state public safety department under the governor, would be consolidated within the secretary's office. The secretary's staff now handles Cook county, and the governor's personnel test in downstate counties.

Filing System
2. A filing system would be built up with a folder on each of the state's nearly 2,500,000 licensed drivers. Data pertinent to a driver's performance behind the wheel would be collected in his folder at Springfield.

3. All courts in the state would be required to report actions taken on traffic violations, whether the case against the motorist was brought under state law or a municipal ordinance. At present, reports are forwarded only when a state law has been broken. If a prosecution, say for reckless driving, has been brought under a municipal ordinance, a report of conviction is not required.

For a long time, the system for reporting violations—for which the driver's license may be suspended—had widely been regarded as one of the chief weaknesses in the old statute. Efforts were made by the 1951 Legislature to strengthen it, but amounted to a patching job.

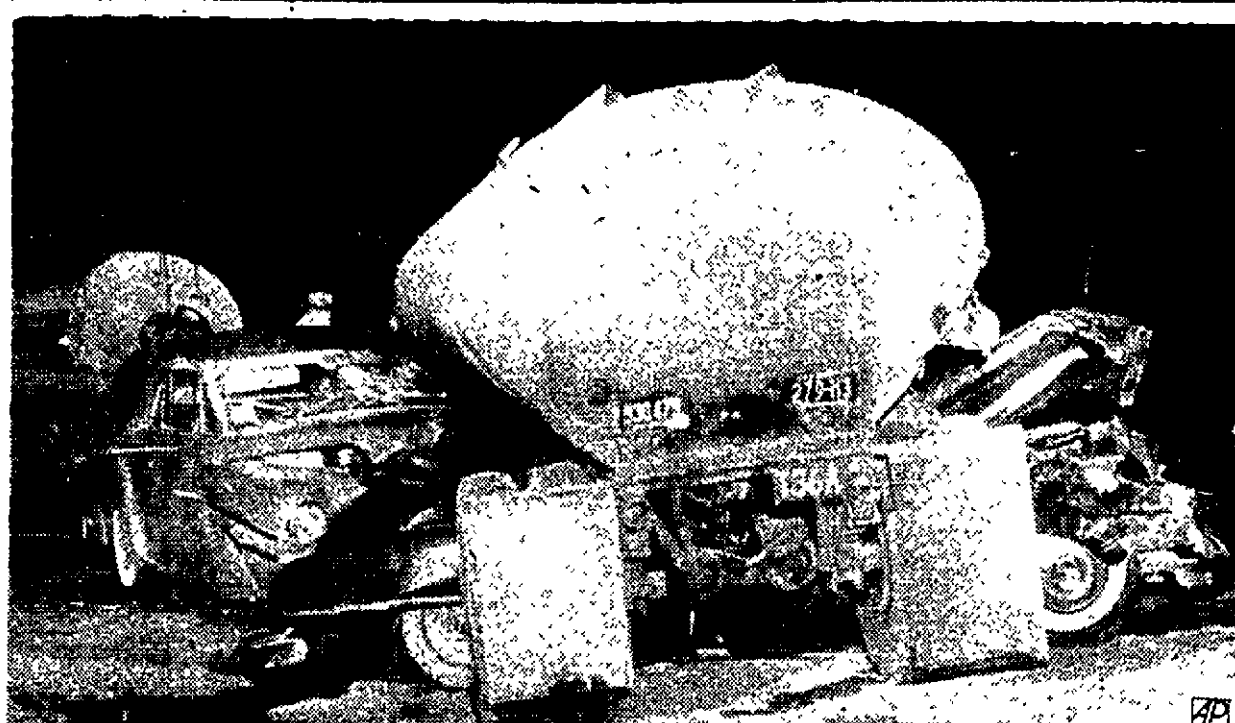

Could Suspend
Depending on improved files, the secretary even would be authorized to suspend a license if accumulated information reflected a habitual or repeated "disrespect of traffic regulations."

The license of a driver shown to be repeatedly reckless, or incompetent, could be suspended.

The draft also contains provisions to require renewals on a two year basis, instead of every three years as now. Stricter examinations would be given to license applicants, and all licensed drivers would have to undergo a new examination upon reaching age 65.

PUPPIES GALORE—Wayne Lial, one-year-old, helps his dog, Lassie, count noses at their home in Providence, R. I. Lassie, an 11-month-old Collie, became a mother of 12 puppies—her first litter. SPCA officials say a litter of 12 happens only once in 20,000 deliveries. (AP wirephoto)

TODAY'S MIRACLE STORY—If you look closely you'll see two autos in this picture, one at left and the other thoroughly crushed beneath a 76,000-pound two-tanker oil rig into which it crashed (Feb. 25) at South Gate, Calif. Raymond Marchetti, 41, Long Beach, emerged from the smashed car with only a crushed hand. Neither the driver of the other car which piled into the wreckage moments after the crash nor the truck driver was injured. And miraculously, neither accident ignited the load of gasoline. State Department Needs Remedial Action: Dulles

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the State department needs remedial action from the Republican administration.

He added that congressional investigation may help in this respect. In a formal statement at his news conference Dulles said it will take months to reorganize the department and get the personnel situation "in satisfactory shape."

Meanwhile, he said, congressional inquiries will be going on and he made clear that he intends to cooperate with them.

Declares Policy
He laid down this policy about defending the department and its people, which he took over little more than a month ago from the Truman administration:

"I am prepared to defend what I know to be sound and defensible. I am not prepared blindly to defend a situation which was created under my predecessors and which I have taken office with a mandate to change."

In subsequent questions Dulles was asked whether the State department needs remedial action and he thought he and his associates were competent to take that action. He did not spell out what he meant by this.

May Be Helpful
On the other hand, Dulles said the State department could not rebuild a lawful investigation by Congress. He thought it quite possible, he continued, that such an investigation would bring out facts which would be helpful to him and his associates.

There have been published reports that the morale of State department employees carried over from the Truman administration was badly shaken by the cooperation of Dulles and his lieutenants with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), a long time critic of the department.

Dulles said he knew of no bad morale but explained that he had contact only with the top dozen policy directors and administration chiefs of the State department. McCarthy said today his information is that the morale of "really good Americans" in the department is at a peak.

Four-Year-Old Cowboy Slays Man With Gun

RALEIGH, N. C. (P)—The Indian in a cowboy and Indian romp is dead.

J. P. Payne, 39, a roadside grill operator who was shot through the back while playing with a 4-year-old boy, died in Rex hospital Thursday.

Payne was accidentally shot with his own .38 caliber pistol Monday by the cowboy, Gary James Little, who had picked the weapon up from behind a counter.

The boy and his mother, Mrs. Albert J. Little of San Antonio, Tex., had stopped at the grill for breakfast. They were en route to New York to embark for France to join Maj. Albert J. Little, their husband and father. No charges were preferred.

Chicagoan Pays $25 When Liquor Is Found in Auto

A Chicago man was fined $25 and costs early this morning after being arrested on the charge of transporting a liquor bottle with a broken seal.

Wayne Beggs, 35, was released from county jail today when his wife came to Dixon from Chicago to pay his fine and have him released from the county jail where he spent the night.

Beggs was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Sterling Schrock after Dixon Police Officers Woodruff, Trotter and McCoy found a liquor bottle with a broken seal in his car.

According to police, he was told earlier in the evening to leave his car alone after he was noticed under the influence of alcohol.

He was apprehended later driving his car with the bottle in it. He was not intoxicated at the time, police said, and was not charged with driving while intoxicated.

Canton Youth In Hospital For 31st Time

CANTON, Ill.—(P)—An 11-year-old Canton boy is hospitalized for the 31st time, recovering from his fifth major operation.

The youngster, David Lee Scalf, was reported in "only fair" condition today at Graham Hospital, where he recently underwent surgery for ulcers.

"What the next step will be, we do not know," said the boy's father, Jesse, manager of a Canton towel company. "About all we can do is hope for the best. But David Lee is far from giving up. When they took him to the operating room the other day, he kidded with the doctors and nurses just as he always did."

The father said his son "has never lost his ambition to some day be a doctor himself."

David Lee first was hospitalized six months after he was born without an abdominal wall. Doctors corrected the condition in two operations.

Settled $521,601 Tax Bill for $100

Senator Williams Says Bargain Settlements 'Perfectly Ridiculous'

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Williams (R-Del.) told the senate today that treasury officials allowed a Californian to settle a $521,601 claim for delinquent alcohol taxes by paying $100.

In a Senate speech, Williams listed and denounced a series of tax settlements made at what he termed "an insignificant fraction" of the amounts the government claimed was due. Some of the cases went back to the 1930s and earlier.

If the claims were valid, Williams argued, the bargain settlements were "perfectly ridiculous and unjustified."

And if the claims exceeded amounts actually due, he said, "then the false claims by the government constitute nothing short of blackmail."

Williams commented too that some of the settlements were "approved by public officials whose own honesty and integrity have been challenged during the recent months."

As Williams related it, the Californian's case involved a question of ability to pay. But many of the others did not.

Williams named the Jos. Schlitz Brewing Co. of Milwaukee as having settled one claim by paying $4,225 instead of $261,189 that the Treasury's alcohol tax unit originally had claimed to be due.

Reynolds Twp. Farm Dispute In Court Here

A complaint was filed in the office of John O. Shaulis, circuit court clerk, Wednesday seeking the settlement of a disputed $32,000 estate in Reynolds township.

The complaint was filed by plaintiffs Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sward, against Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Nass, both of Ashton, defendants.

The dispute is that of the late George Schinzer, Reynolds township, the father of Mrs. Sward and Mrs. Nass.

In the complaint, Mrs. Sward requested that the plaintiffs and defendants become tenants in common on the Schinzer estate, a farm in Reynolds township.

She asked the court to set aside a deed given to Mrs. Nass by her father years ago, that a chattel mortgage allegedly held by Mr. Nass be dissolved, and that an administrator be appointed to settle the estate.

She also requested that her husband be reimbursed for work and improvements he had made on the farm while living there and taking care of Schinzer.

In the complaint, the plaintiffs claimed that half of the Reynolds township farm should go to them as legal heirs of Schinzer.

Former Marquette Gridder Shot in Warehouse Theft

CHICAGO—(P)—Glenn Chernick, identified by his father as a former Marquette University football player, was shot and seriously wounded early today and a warehouse watchman identified him as one of three men he surprised in a cigarette storeroom.

Police were called to the home of Milton Putnam, who said he was an acquaintance of Chernick. The 22-year-old 200-pound young man had gone there with bullet wounds in the neck, legs and thighs, Putnam told Detective Joe Tye.

Watchman Beaten
Meanwhile, Joseph Conrad, 76-year-old watchman, reported he was beaten by three young men after heading them in the Central Grocers Cooperative, Inc., warehouse, 2101 S. Carpenter st., four blocks west of Putnam's home.

Conrad identified Chernick as the man at whom he fired three shots before the three intruders overpowered him.

"I was only four feet away," police quoted the watchman, "I fired three shots and saw him drop to his knees. Then one of the men yelled 'He's out of ammunition,' and they all jumped me."

Ike Golfs In Bright Sunshine

AUGUSTA, Ga.—(P)—President Eisenhower put aside White House cares and golfed in the warm Georgia sunshine today.

Starting the first full day of a week-end vacation, the President was up early and hustled out to the practice tee at the Augusta National Club shortly after breakfast. He planned an 18-hole round later in the day.

Eisenhower arrived here by plane from Washington late Thursday.

Newsman were not allowed on the grounds of the exclusive club where the President is staying. Another request today for permission to watch Eisenhower tee off, and for photographers to shoot a few pictures, was rejected by James C. Hagerly, the President's press secretary.

This is the President's first trip out of the Washington area since his inauguration Jan. 20. He was accompanied from the capital by Mrs. Eisenhower, her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud of Denver, Colo., and by a small staff of White House aides. The party will return to Washington Sunday afternoon.

MEXICAN ACTRESS ARRESTED—Rosaura Revueltas (above), Mexican film actress, was arrested at Silver City, N. M., by immigration officers. Miss Revueltas is starring in "Salt of the Earth," a controversial movie being filmed by the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers with the cooperation of several Hollywood artists who have refused to tell congressional investigators if they were Communists. Patrol Craft Crashes With Ten Aboard

Rescue Made by Coast Guard Cutter In Stormy Atlantic

WASHINGTON (P)—A crippled navy patrol plane crash-landed in the mid-Atlantic this morning but all 10 men aboard were picked up by the coast guard cutter Coos Bay.

The Navy said that four of the men were rescued from the water and six from a raft carried by the plane. The Navy reported no injuries among the survivors.

Winds Whip Sea
The patrol plane, which was about half way between Bermuda and the Azores Islands, landed in a sea that had been whipped by 30-mile-an-hour winds.

The Coast Guard cutter had been sent to the area after the plane, a P-2-B, reported it was having engine trouble. A patrol plane also was ordered to stand by over the scene.

During the last hour of the crippled plane's flight, its progress was tracked on the radar of the Coos Bay and by other vessels in the Atlantic.

Bomber Aids
The patrol bomber sent to the scene circled around to give added guidance to the damaged craft in its effort to put down as near as possible to the Coast Guard cutter.

The cutter's crew was at crash stations, waiting to carry out the rescue.

The Navy said that the aircraft had left Bermuda and was on its way to the Azores when one engine began to fail and then the pilot radioed that he would attempt to turn back.

Lincoln Program Tonight

Pupils from Lincoln school will have an opportunity to give their slant on the American way of life in an interpretative sketch "You and the U.S.A.," to be presented tonight in the grade school auditorium.

Two performances will be given, one at 6:30 p.m. and the other at 8 p.m. In the annual show, each grade level will give its idea of the privileges and responsibilities of the citizen in the home, community, city, and world.

Program Chairman Miss Mary Campbell is assisted by Helen Rolfe, Fred Padgett, Rita Castagnoli, Rosemary Vaile, Rachel Stewart, Coriela Baker, Esther Murphy, Esther Barton, Mary Lighthall, Lillian Rasmussen, Curtis Westfall, Rosemary McLaughlin, Marilyn Lewis, and Leighton Myers.

Parent-Teacher Association members will serve a "jitney" supper starting at 5 p.m. under the supervision of Mrs. Don Campbell and Mrs. Truman Thompson.

Other features of the evening will be a bazaar and a fish pond. The respective chairmen are Mrs. Carlton Worton and Mrs. Kenneth Dusing. Miss Savilla Palmer will be in charge of the check room.

Attend the Church of Your Faith Regularly

For Prevention or Healing... CALL THE DOCTOR

"Johnny's sick!" The words strike fear in your heart, although your child's name may be Mary, Jane, or Bob. You put him to bed and call the doctor. You give him medicine and nurse him tenderly.

It is easy to tell when your child is not well—physically, that is. And it is comparatively easy to provide whatever is necessary to heal him. But do you feel as much concern for his soul?

Perhaps you have not noticed symptoms of spiritual indisposition. Perhaps you have thoughtlessly disregarded his spiritual needs. Yet his body is only temporal. His soul will live on—and on—and on!

Your Church is like a doctor—ready to heal illnesses of the spirit, but even more eager to prevent them.

Attend Church regularly with all your family for spiritual check-ups, just as you call on your family physician for physical care.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

What Methodists Believe

(One of a series of statements concerning the beliefs of Methodists as written by bishops of the Methodist church.)

WE BELIEVE IN CHRIST
This dark world for many people. Hope and courage are needed today. Fortunate are those who are able to see the light which comes from the life of Jesus of Nazareth. In His life and words He revealed what God is like. He has been called "the Light of the World." The light which comes from His life is like that of a gem with many facets in which all races of men can see its glory.
The light of kindness shines from His life. He went about doing good. He was kind to children, to young people, to those in the strain of middle years, and to those in life's earthly sunset. The strong and the weak, the rich and the poor, even the sinners, were part of His concern. When men were nailing Him on a cross, He said, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."
The light of character shines from His life. For forty days Jesus was sorely tempted but was triumphant in all of this experience. His enemies could not daunt Him. Neither the tyranny of Jewish legalism nor the arrogant power of Rome could crush Him. Men who have seen the light of His character have been inspired to follow Him and to endure all manner of hardship. His life was pure and sinless. Through the years His character has never been assailed. One man has said of Him, "Purest among the mighty and mightiest among the pure." He has become man's eternal contemporary.
The light of knowledge shines from the life of Jesus. He had a broad grasp of great truths that make for a better world. He was a child of His day as far as much of our secular knowledge is concerned, but He was way out in front in His grasp of spiritual realities. We have not yet fully explored the areas where the light of His teachings has gone. He reveals new moral heights and ethical standards for men to reach.
The light of faith shines from the life of Jesus. He knew that God could be trusted. He was dedicated completely to the doing of what He felt was God's will. He lived without fear. Thus we see in Jesus a man who never "cracked" under strain. Jesus is the supreme example of one whom no misfortune or enmity could break to pieces nor cause to grow weak with fear. The hope of our discouraged society is in people who do not break under strain. Jesus is the supreme example of a man who never "went to pieces." We, by faith in Him, can be strong also.

Residents of Lonely Island Flu Stricken

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Eskimos on little Diomed Island, struck by an influenza epidemic which left only three of the approximately 100 people on the island on their feet and able to assist the ill, waited today for a mercy plane carrying a doctor, a nurse and a priest.
The epidemic has already claimed the lives of six residents of the islands, a barren tuft of land lying in the stormy Bering Strait midway between Alaska and Russia and only three miles from Russian-held Big Diomed Island.
Radio reports received here by Wien Alaska Airlines headquarters told of the epidemic. The Eskimos, most of them Catholics, pleaded for a doctor and a nurse to aid the ill and for a priest to minister to the dying.
The mercy plane left Nome Thursday.

Only Hudson, with the lowest center of gravity among American cars, can handle such tremendous power so safely!

Now try Hudson, the style leader with the winning wallop!

You can see Hudson styling is beautiful! And once you try the power, it will spoil you for any other car!

For Hudson—winner of 47 victories in 60 stock-car races and Champion in all three major stock-car associations in 1952—outperforms them all!

The secret of this record performance is exclusive "step-down" design . . . which gives Hudson the lowest center of gravity among American cars. And that is why only Hudson can handle such tremendous power so safely. Don't put off for another day your enjoyment of America's most exciting new cars for 1953.

Government Should Air Story Behind U. S. Water Projects

Much talk is heard these days about government reorganization as a general proposition, but soon it will have to be translated into specific proposals by President Eisenhower.

No tougher job confronts him than how to consolidate government efforts in the related fields of flood control, river and harbor development, reclamation and irrigation, and soil conservation.

At the present time, these operations are distributed among three agencies—the army engineers, the interior department's bureau of reclamation, and the agriculture department.

The Hoover commission on government reorganization sharply criticized this scattered effort, declared that it produced costly competition among the agencies, and recommended that these functions be brought together under one tent.

Other analysts have made shocking charges against the army engineers (handling flood control and river-harbor work) and the bureau of reclamation. Some have said that the engineers, often deliberately understate the costs of projects to assure their approval by congress and keep a dominant role in the picture. Others have laid cost-estimate errors simply to gross misjudgment.

Reclamation officials have been accused of no less serious offenses against the public purse and the national interest.

It happens that both these agencies have many fast friends on Capitol Hill. Any reorganization plan which went the whole way suggested by Mr. Hoover—full merger—would probably be doomed to failure now.

The reclamation bureau is a favorite of western congressmen for understandable reasons. The engineers find support wherever water development is a big issue. If the analysts are to be believed, neither group is hesitant about using the leverage it has on lawmakers.

Mr. Eisenhower's advisers surely must be aware of these pressures, and the chances are that the president's proposals in this field will fall short of merger and will look instead to a clarification of function, an elimination of overlapping, a general simplifying and streamlining.

But in any event, the whole story of federal activity in this broad area ought to be thoroughly aired, so the public can understand the problems and so the groundwork can be laid for later more drastic reorganization if the likely half-way measures prove inadequate.

Mend Your Defense for Canasta

By OSWALD JACOBY

"What would you do about our problem?" asks a Massachusetts correspondent. "My mother beats everybody that plays Samba or Canasta with her. It's getting to the point where we are losing all of our friends. My father is really miserable."

"I know that she doesn't cheat, but yet she manages to win every time. In Samba her base is usually over 11,000 while we get a measly 1,500. Isn't that awful?"

"I used to love to play cards, but now it's very discouraging. I've been trying to solve this problem for some time without success. Please help me."

This is a sad situation, and no mistake about it. One solution is for the other players to improve their game. They are obviously playing badly if they let the local champion get a base of 11,000 practically whenever she plays Samba.

Another solution is for the champion to play in a tougher game instead of against her friends and family. If she can find good competition, she will enjoy the game more, and her family will sigh with relief at not being dominated by the one shark among the minnows.

A third solution is for the local champion to give the other players a handicap. A reasonable amount—say a thousand points in a game of Samba—might put all the players on fairly even terms. That method is adopted in chess, where a master may give a big handicap to a lesser player to give the amateur a fighting chance.

Perhaps I can help a bit with the first solution. Concentrate on good defensive play when your opponent is fiendishly successful. Don't discard cards that will be too helpful. Try to save the discard pile in the hope that your partner can get it if you can avoid giving it away.

In the game of Samba the best defense is a fast offense. Concentrate on melding out quickly without trying for sambas. Just get two normal canastas and meld out quickly. No opponent can get a base of 11,000 if you and your partner work with reasonable skill towards a fast out.

Mind you, I don't say that the way to win at Samba is to play defensively. But good defensive play will prevent your opponent from massacring you. Moreover, your opponent has to hurry her melds a bit if you threaten to go out quickly. That may put her enough off balance to reverse her trend.

WESTBROOK PEGLER

Pegler Declares He Was One of First to Reveal Eleanor Roosevelt as "Conspirator"

(Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

I was one of the first Americans with a public voice to realize that Eleanor Roosevelt was a conspirator, a profiteer in the distress and confusion of the people of the United States and a persistent friend of Communists, who are enemies of my country.

When the story of this woman's character is written by an objective historian, perhaps 50 or 75 years hence, the confirmed facts which I have extricated from calculated obscurity will be drawn upon as historic material which otherwise would have been lost. A cult has developed around her which holds her in insensate reverence.

It has been suggested that my spirit in this pursuit was frivolous or sporty. Nothing could be wronger. I earnestly regard her as a menace to our national security, to public morals and civil ethics and the rights established by our Constitution.

Dr. J. B. Matthews, another pioneer Red-baiter, recently published in the American Mercury a fine summary of Mrs. Roosevelt's guilt in coddling and patronizing a lot of young but, by no means juvenile or innocent, Reds in the very White House itself. It is a library piece which should be kept in every newspaper morgue and legislative collection.

Doctor Matthews deals, of course, with the case of Joe Lash, the one Red who enjoyed the highest favor with this old woman. I am pleased to be able to amplify even his authoritative data with the statement that Franklin D. Roosevelt in the spring of 1945 gave an arbitrary order as commander-in-chief that his wife's protegee be permitted to attend the officer candidate school of the Quartermaster Corps at Camp Lee, Va., so that he could get a commission, after all.

Prior to that, the Navy had refused to give Lash a ready-made, unearned commission and a safe assignment to "intelligence" work in New York. Robert Stripling, the chief investigator of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, caught hell because the committee refused to withdraw its data on Lash at her request. The committee stood pat because Lash refused to repudiate his career as a Red or to give information on his comrades.

In due course, Drew Pearson, ever ready to persecute enemies of Communism, took after Stripling, who soon was drafted and removed from the scene of his labors against the treason for about one year. The malice against Stripling was so fierce and efficient that he could not even rise to the grade of PFC or join an outfit. He was an outcast, a yardbird from first to last. Pearson tried to have him shipped off to Japan after VJ-Day on the pretext that he was invaluable to General MacArthur, but Stripling replied that it was funny that such an indispensable man could not make PFC in a year.

In a hearing before a special sub-committee of the House Committee on Military Affairs on May 24, 1945, it was officially disclosed on the other hand that Franklin D. Roosevelt had arbitrarily ordered that Lash be given a commission in the army notwithstanding objections by the Information and Education Division, which held that he was "not the type." There were 3,000,000 men in that army, but Eleanor's husband found time, in the press of his great concerns, such as Yalta, to order a commission for his wife's Red friend while Stripling was picking up cigaret butts in the yard.

Stripling was an American Dreyfus, but La Boca's cult had no pity for him.

John J. McCloy, an assistant secretary of war then, later the hiegalorum of our extravagant civil administration in Germany and now the chairman of the board of the Chase National Bank, gave testimony regarding the secret policy of issuing commissions to confirmed Communists in the army. He was this way and that way on the subject, trying to justify something outrageous. A letter from McCloy was introduced relating Lash's military career in detail.

Lash was drafted on April 27, 1942 and assigned to study "weather observation" at Miami Beach. Soon afterwards, Mrs. Roosevelt called him from the ranks in a company formation to go with her on a social date. The casualties in "weather observation" were relatively very light.

In May, 1943, Lash went to the Pacific and soon turned up in charge of the local "Information and Education" program, a propaganda job whereby millions of poor, unsuspecting Joes got a dose of left-wing politics. He flew 102½ hours as a "weather observer."

Q—Were the Sonnets from the Portuguese really translations?
A—The title was used merely as a disguise by Mrs. Browning.

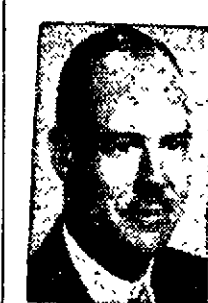

What type of animal is a Portuguese man-of-war?
A—It is a jellyfish that floats on the surface of tropical seas and the Gulf Stream.

Q—Was George Washington's mother born in this country?
A—Mary Ball was born on her father's estate in Lancaster County, Virginia.

Q—Why was Phoenix, Arizona, so called?
A—The city was named for the fabled bird of ancient Egypt, who was supposed to burn himself on an altar every 500 years, and then rise again, young and beautiful. The name was suggested because early settlers saw signs of prehistoric farming in this region.

Q—From what was the word "radar" derived?
A—From the phrase Radio Detection And Ranging.

Sweating is one of the normal ways of cooling the body, but sometimes it can become annoying or worse.

Q—My husband, who is 23 years old, perspires terribly in his sleep. It is always worse around the chest, back, head and neck. Could this be caused by nerves or a heart condition?

Worried Wife
A—In a situation of this sort, a physical cause should be sought. Among the possibilities are toxic goiter, diabetes, tuberculosis, some disturbance of the nervous system, a disorder of the glands of internal secretion, or of the circulation.

Q—What treatment is used for chronic cystic mastitis?
G.

A—Not infrequently the removal of a single cystic nodule of the breast may be sufficient. Restriction of salt and fluid intake is sometimes advised. The use of a drug or of a hormone preparation is sometimes helpful, as is X-ray treatment. If all these treatments fail and too many cysts form in the breast, removal of the breast has to be considered, but this is not often favored in simple mastitis.

Q—Every winter my elbows get as scratchy as sandpaper, although I put lotions and creams on them every night. This does not happen in the summer. What can I do to soften them?
Miss N. L. S.

A—This sort of thing is certainly more common in the winter and is most likely to be caused by some irritant such as soap and water, alcohol, dye on clothing, or the like. Also, there is more rapid drying in the winter as a rule because living quarters are usually drier.

You should try one of the soap substitutes instead of soap, and there is a slight possibility that the addition of vitamin A would

When Organization Starts, Pals Drown in Formalities

American women seem to have an incurable disease called organizationitis.

Let three women decide it would be fun to do their darning and mending together and before half-a-dozen socks are darned, one of them has been elected president, another vice president, and the third secretary-treasurer.

That is hardly an exaggeration. In our neighborhood, for instance, several women thought it would be fun if we learned gardening together.

We agreed to pass the word around the neighborhood and get together once a month to bone up on geraniums, roses, etc. It was just going to be an informal neighborhood get-together but we were going to talk about flower-growing instead of about each other.

BUT RED TAPE GREW INSTEAD That was less than six months ago. We are now affiliated with a lot of other garden clubs. We are paying dues, and conducting a business meeting each time we get together before we can talk about gardening.

And in today's mail came a mimeographed copy of our "Rules." They are all very formal, listing Article I, Article II—etc.

It's Article III, though, that finally finishes off any resemblance between the informal get-togethers we started out to have and the formal, boring garden club that has developed.

Article III says in part: "A member shall be dropped from the roll immediately following three consecutive unexcused absences. Only absences due to illness or being out of the city shall be considered as excusable."

Ho hum. That's what organizationitis leads to. And yet it is what happens whenever more than two women try to do anything together.

New Price Index Shows Small Living Cost Drop

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that living costs dropped two-tenths of one per cent between mid-December and mid-January.

The decline, mainly due to lower retail prices for food and clothing, was reflected in a new consumer price index put out for the first time today by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The new index is designed to reflect consumer price changes more accurately than did the one used previously. It prices more items, covers more cities and brings the calculations up to date on new consumer buying habits.

The new index for mid-January is 113.9. Government living cost figures always are a month or so late because of time required to compile them.

Above Average

The figure means that in mid-January living costs were 13.9 per cent above the average for the 1947-49 period, which is used as the index base. It is 0.7 per cent above a year ago.

Many labor unions had contracts under which wage rates were to be adjusted upward or downward according to changes in the old index.

A spokesman for General Motors Corp. said the new living cost figures indicated a one cent-per-hour decrease in wages for about a half million of its employees.

He said, however, that because of government delay in publishing an "old series" index no adjustment in wage rates would be made for the time being.

The "old series" index was once abandoned by the government, but was recently revived on orders of President Eisenhower to accommodate employees and unions having "escalator" clauses geared to the "old series" index.

The "old series" standing in mid-January is to be announced later but not for several weeks.

Meat Drops

The biggest price drop between mid-December and mid-January came in the meat category, dropping nearly two per cent.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said a modest price decrease was general in most of the 48 cities at which prices were obtained for the new index.

Food declined 0.6 per cent during the month. This put it 1.7 per cent below a year ago but 12.5 per cent above the June, 1950, pre-Korean War period. Prices were lower for poultry, fish and dairy products as well as meat. Fresh vegetables were up a bit.

Clothing costs continued to decline and dropped one-half of one per cent between December and January.

The January decline was described as largely seasonal. It left living costs only 0.3 per cent under the all-time high record last November.

UN Awaits Reply of Vishinsky

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Bogged down by Soviet silence, delegates to the 60-nation United Nations political committee took off today for an enforced three-day weekend.

All were awaiting Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky's promised reply to U.S. charges that the Russians started the Korean War, are prolonging it with military assistance to the Reds and could end it whenever they wanted to.

With the U.N. Allies holding firm to a no-compromise stand on acceptable peace terms in Korea, the emerging Western strategy appeared to be to place squarely on the Soviet Union the whole responsibility for prolonging the war or bringing it to a quick end.

Australia's Sir Percy Spender said Thursday the free world "simply is heartily sick and tired" of Vishinsky's "tirade of invective and vituperation" and challenged him to say something new and constructive for a change.

When no one agreed to speak at sessions of the major political committee scheduled for today and Saturday, Chairman Joao Carlos Muniz of Brazil suspended meetings until Monday.

There was no indication that Vishinsky would be ready even then.

Ashton Man Pays Fine After Crash

ASHTON—Fred Wagner, Ashton, who was arrested Monday night by state police on the charge of "traveling at an unreasonable speed and failing to have his car under complete control," was fined $10 and costs.

Wagner was arrested by State Patrolmen William Spencer and Richard Robb and pleaded guilty when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Sterling Schrock, Dixon.

The arrest was made following an accident on Alt. Rt. 30 in Franklin Grove. Spencer and Robb said that Wagner's car struck the rear of a vehicle driven by Frances M. Hodge, Franklin Grove High school senior.

Although no one was injured in the collision at 9:30 p.m. Monday, damage to the two vehicles was estimated to be approximately $280.

See Some Discord Over State's Building Plans

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The harmony of new Republican state officials appeared today to be in for some strain over Gov. William G. Stratton's plan for building a 12 1/2 million dollar state office building.

And there were signs that minority Democrats may try to exploit GOP differences.

The potential sources of discord are two-fold, state officials said privately.

One is the neglect so far of the governor to consult with other newly elected state officers, including Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter and State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, as to whether they desire or need space in the proposed new building.

The second is Stratton's intention to make one of his own appointees, the state public works director, custodian of the new structure with control of the jobs involved.

Three of the four existing major buildings in the state capital group now are cared for by the secretary of state. The exception is the State Armory Building, serviced by the state military and naval affairs department under the governor.

The question of custodianship was raised by Democrats at the hearing Tuesday at which the House Executive Committee approved the governor's bill for the new office building. The two votes against approval were cast by Democrats, and there was speculation that an attempt might be made to amend the bill on the house floor.

If this is done, the house GOP majority would be confronted with the necessity of deciding publicly between Stratton and Carpenter on the custody question.

On the matter of space, Stratton recommended putting up a new building to overcome crowded conditions now existing in the state-house—conditions felt most severely by Carpenter.

Part of the secretary's staff works in cramped basement quarters, often called the catacombs,

Sales Volume Here Up, Revenue Figures Show

Lee county's total volume of retail business amounted to more than $2,600,000 last November, it was revealed today by figures released for the month by the Department of Revenue.

The November volume represents a slight drop from the total volume of the previously computed month, September, 1952. The latter month's volume amounted to approximately $22,000 more business than in November.

Dixon, with the largest business district in the county, did not follow the county trend but showed an increase in sales of more than $44,000 in November over September.

Dixon's volume for November was $1,720,837, compared to the September total of $1,676,857.

In the 18 communities elsewhere in the county an overall volume of business of $797,888 was shown for November.

The 2 per cent retailers' occupation tax on the county's total sales in November amounted to more than $52,300. Dixon's tax share of the total assessment was $36,416. All other communities in the county paid nearly $16,000 in tax.

Although the volume of business for the whole county in September exceeded that of November, more food was purchased throughout the county in the latter month.

The category of food continued to outdo other retail business segments by almost double.

In September consumers bought $637,507 worth of food while they lengthened their belts in November to purchase $651,370 of "vittles."

The purchasing of more food for home cooking in November is reflected in the drop in customers at public eating places.

In September, eating and drinking places did a volume of $223,938 worth of trade, while their business fell off to $220,457 in November.

In comparison with Sterling in Whiteside county, Dixon runs behind. Although Sterling only had 16 more taxpayers than Dixon, it did $468,085 more business than Dixon in November.

However, a business volume of $2,144,742 shown for Whiteside county represents a lag in comparison to Lee County's $2,600,000.

George Allen New Envoy to India, Nepal

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today nominated George V. Allen to be ambassador to India and neighboring Nepal, and Livingston T. Merchant to be assistant secretary of state in charge of European affairs.

He also formally submitted to the Senate the nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen as ambassador to Russia. Selection of Bohlen for the post was announced by the White House last week. He has been serving as State department counselor and is an expert on Soviet affairs.

All three men—Allen, Merchant and Bohlen—are career diplomats. Allen has been ambassador to Yugoslavia since 1949 and Merchant is deputy U. S. special representative in Europe, under William H. Draper jr.

Eisenhower's announcement of the appointments came during the first full day of a brief vacation the President is spending here at the Augusta National Golf Club.

Camera Club to Close Charter Monday Night

Charter memberships in the Dixon Camera club will close at the Monday business meeting of the newly-organized club, according to temporary Chairman Harold Smith.

The club, started on Feb. 9 for the purpose of interesting Dixon citizens in photography, is currently holding its meetings in the Loveland Community house.

At its last meeting, temporary club officers and a tentative constitution and by-laws were accepted subject to final membership approval.

Charter members are able to join the club prior to March 2 at $3 a year. Subsequent to that, a $1 initiation fee will be charged, Smith said.

Meetings of the club include a business meeting on the first Monday of each month and an activity meeting on the third Monday of the month, he added.

Allies Bomb Red Center Near Border

SEOUL (AP)—Swift U. S. fighter-bombers today pounded a huge Communist training center on the Manchurian border and left it in flaming ruins, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

Pilots said they destroyed 10 buildings and left the sprawling installation smoldering in flames. Screening Sabre jets encountered no Communist MIG fighters.

In frontline sweeps, Marine and Air Force fighter-bomber pilots reported destruction of 26 buildings, three personnel shelters, two sections of a rail bridge and other Red installations.

On the ground, Allied infantrymen drove off seven Communist attacks and killed more than 60 Communists — including 35 members of a Chinese patrol.

MEMORY LANE
The Old Lamp
Remember the old kerosene lamp? During supper it stood in the center of the red checked table cloth. Later, held high by mother, it led sleepyheads to bed. Then father read the Evening Telegraph while mother did her darning by its light and it was always left burning in the window for sister when she went out with her beau. Many nostalgic memories linger around the old lamp. Remember?

Costs Cut on Homes, Places Of Business

POLO—Fire insurance rates were decreased here with the announcement this week by the Illinois Inspection bureau that the village had been reclassified from a Class 7 fire risk to Class 6.

The action cuts the cost of fire insurance on homes and commercial and public buildings. On homes, for example, rates dropped from 18 cents per $100 coverage to 16 cents.

Two years ago Polo rural residents also received a reduction in fire insurance rates when the Polo fire department was designated a class A rural department.

In comparison, Polo's neighbor, Mt. Morris, which currently is petitioning for establishment of a fire protection district to replace the city fire department, is a Class 8 fire risk. Proponents of the proposed fire district say the community stands a good chance of being reclassified to Class 7 should the fire district proposal be approved.

They contend better fire protection would be provided by a fire district, thereby bringing a reduction in fire insurance rates.

Polo officials credit its department's efficiency and adequate equipment with bringing the village a reduction in rates.

Opposition Ticket Filed at Ashton for Village Election

OREGON—An opposition ticket for candidates has been filed for the April 21 village election.

Seeking office on a Progressive slate are Adam Witzel for mayor; C. S. Bilderback for village clerk; and Roy William Jeter and Hugh Wood for trustees. Kenneth G. Farver is seeking reelection as trustee on the Progressive ticket.

They will oppose a ticket filed earlier this week, which proposes J. M. Bergeson for mayor; Glenn Mehlhausen, incumbent, and L. H.

Jennings and Roy J. Krug, all for trustees, and Clifford Schafer, incumbent, for village clerk.

William H. Ventler, who has been mayor since 1922, will not seek reelection.

Occupations of the latest candidates to file are as follows: Witzel, Gulf oil dealer; Woods, part owner of the Standard oil service station; Jeter, Boyd motor sales employee; and Bilderback, owner of a men's clothing store. He also has interest in the Huddle, a snack shop.

Cardinals Shoot for No. 26

WHAT'S the SCORE?

By NORM JOLLOV

ACCOMPANYING THE HARLEM GLOBETROTTERS basketball team here in Dixon Wednesday night is a special added attraction, the Trampoline duo of Echols and Bedard, former University of Illinois gymnast and trampoline stars.

Echols was four time National A.A.U. tumbling champion as well as NCAA, Big Ten, Midwest A.A.U. and Central A.A.U. title holder. He is known as the only tumbler ever to do a front somersault with a double twist.

JAYCEE OFFICIALS report that tickets are going fast for the Globetrotter exhibition, but insisted that there would not be an overselling of tickets. When enough tickets have been sold to fill the gymnasium at the local high school, no additional tickets will hit the market.

Malden high school has a strange distinction. In 22 games this current basketball season, Malden was on the short end of the score each and every time. In addition, the Little Eight conference team failed to win one of their last 33 cage tilts.

BUT TO TOP IT ALL OFF, Malden's football team did not win a single game either. So, basketball coaches with only a few victories, take heart. You can say you didn't have the worst record in the state.

AN INELIGIBLE PLAYER cost Pittsfield high school two basketball victories when it was learned that the team's high scoring center had played in an unauthorized benefit game.

But that falls way short of the Karnak team in the deep southern part of the state which saw a 21 game winning record go up in smoke in one day when it was revealed that one of its members was ineligible. Imagine having the distinction of losing 21 basketball games in one day?

HEBRON'S DEFENDING STATE CHAMPIONS are still alive in the state title picture and apparently very much so, judging from their 78-37 victory over Huntley last night. But a big test comes up tonight when the Green Giants tangle with St. Edward's of Elgin which routed Richmond 95-46 last night. The two clubs battle tonight for the right to enter the regional meet.

Hinckley Nips Pawpaw On Last Second Basket

MAPLE PARK — A basket by Paul Bastian as the gun sounded ended the Pawpaw hopes for a district tournament title last night as Hinckley nipped the Bulldogs, 68-66.

After Pawpaw had led most of the way, Hinckley finally caught the Bulldogs in the final minutes. With eight seconds remaining, a center jump was called by the officials. The ball went to Hinckley and Bastian took a pass in the left corner. As the shot left his hand, the buzzer sounded ending the game. The ball swished the nets and Hinckley was in, Pawpaw out.

Tonight, Hinckley meets favored Waterman in the finals. Pawpaw took a 14-12 lead at the end of the first period and then moved ahead 32-28 at halftime. The Bulldogs added another point in the third period to lead 49-44 going into the final period.

Midway through the period, however, Pawpaw lost the services of Dean Eich, rebounding specialist, and with him went the ball game. When Eich left, Pawpaw held a six point lead which Hinckley methodically cut down.

Harold Skinner racked up 33 points to lead Hinckley, one less than he scored a night earlier. Skinner now has 67 points for two nights work.

Bob Klatt led the Pawpaw scoring with 19 points. The box score:

Hinckley (68)	Pawpaw (66)
Dallen/bh 6 3 4 Johnson 6 3 1
Bastian 1 0 3 Torman 2 2 4
Skinner 13 7 5 Pfeiffer 5 2 2

ABC Bowler Dies During Tournament

CHICAGO — Festivities at the American Bowling Congress golden jubilee tournament were dampened Thursday night by the death of a Wisconsin bowler shortly after he had rolled a 275, the tournament's high game to date.

Emory Romnek, bowling with Tony's Letties of Racine, Wis., tossed nine straight strikes in his final frame but spared in the final game. Romnek, a 180 average bowler in a Racine league, shot 170 and 165 in his first two games for a 610 series.

After picking up his ball and walking towards the bowlers' pad-dock, Romnek collapsed. He died, apparently of a heart attack less than 45 minutes later. His widow and five children survive the 48 year old payroll clerk.

Two Chicago teams and a team and individual from Milwaukee crashed the top ten.

Jay-Zee Tap of Milwaukee moved into seventh place in the open division with 2880 while Right-Way Pin Co. of Berwyn, Ill., took tenth with 2688.

In the booster division, Tip Top Tap of Chicago grabbed fifth place with 2740.

John Clark of Milwaukee rolled 673, good for fourth place in the singles. Oscar Severson of Cambridge, Wis., leads this division with 682.

Forreton, Polo Plan Tournament Strategy

Marcos Feel Regional Win A Possibility

POLO — Polo's unenviable record of two victories against 20 defeats doesn't keep Coach Charlie Ketner's boys from feeling that a regional victory over Leaf River ranks with the possible.

The reason is that while Leaf River ranks fourth in the tournament, Polo has claimed one of its two victories over Leaf River. The other win came over Byron in the Mt. Morris holiday tournament.

Thus, Polo guns for another shot at Forreton. The Marcos have met Forreton on two occasions, their first game of the season when they lost 76-55 and again in the final game when they dropped a nine point decision, 74-69.

Ketner refuses to accept the idea that because Forreton has won 23 games in a row, that the Cardinals are a shoe-in for the finals.

Walt Schildt, 5-10 senior forward leads the Polo scoring for the season with 206 points. Schildt scores most of his points from the side. Second in the scoring parade is Al Person, 6-1 junior center, who has scored most of his 153 points from the pivot.

Clark McDaniel is the third sure starter for the Marcos. McDaniel, a 5-11 sophomore forward, has tallied 141 points mostly on rebounds and from the side. The Polo sharpshooter is averaging 45 per cent of his shots.

The remainder of the squad boils down to a battle among four guards. The contestants are Bill Warfield, 5-8 junior, and Roland Unger, 5-9 junior, who seem to have the edge and Richard McKee, 5-8 junior and Glen Unger, 5-4 senior.

Rounding out the team are Ray Rebeck 5-7, junior guard and two forwards, Ed Olsen, 5-8 junior and Earl Rube, 5-5 junior.

Salas, Marcune Collide Tonight

NEW YORK — Lauro Salas, a wade-in fighter, and Pat Marcune, a right hand bomber who likes his opponents to come to him, collide tonight in a Madison Square Garden ten rounder.

The 9 p.m. (CST) bout will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NBC).

This is the New York debut of Salas, who won and lost the lightweight title in lively scraps with 135-pound champion Jimmy Carter.

Kable Kolts Gain First Round Victory in State AAU Tourney

ROCKFORD — (Special) — Mt. Morris' Kable Kolts, District A.A.U. champs, rolled up an 83-67 verdict over Minneapolis-Moline last night in state tournament play.

In the second contest, Orzula Builders of Berwyn sprang an upset over Stephens-Adamson of Aurora, 86-72.

Tonight, Rockford's White Eagles tackle Spauld at 8:30, Springfield meets Chicago at 7:45, Champaign tangles with Elmwood Park at 9 and Deland faces Carbondale at 10:15.

The Kolts, last night, rolled to a 26-18 first period advantage and continued to build on it until the fourth period when they led 71-49.

Dukes Face Mendota in Final Game

Munson, DeYoung To Play Last Tilt In Regular Season

BULLETIN

Jim Gorman will not be eligible to play for the Dixon Dukes for the remainder of the season. A ruling from the IHSAA this afternoon declared that Gorman had played with a team which had enough organization to make it recognized as a unit, which is in violation of association rules.

The Dixon Dukes close out their regular season tonight with a North Central conference game with Mendota. It will be the final game for Jim DeYoung and Jack Munson and for Jim Gorman if a ruling on his eligibility is received in his favor today.

At noon today, school officials still had not received word from the office of the Illinois High School association's executive secretary, Al Willis, who returned to his office this morning after business on the West coast.

Gorman was suspended by the school here while an investigation was made into his connection with a pick-up ball game two weeks ago.

For DeYoung and Munson, it will be their last regularly scheduled games, but the pair will be playing next week when the regional tournament opens.

Mendota, though victors of only two conference games, will bring a powerful crew to Dixon which could drop the Dukes out of fifth place. Dixon has a 3-5 loop record.

Elsewhere in the conference, Ottawa stacks up as the scene of a real scorcher as the Sterling Golden Warriors invade the Pirate den, intent on dealing Ottawa its first conference loss. Sterling has lost only one game, the first of the conference season, and since have rolled impressively to a 7-1 record.

A victory for the Warriors tonight would mean a tie for conference honors between Ottawa and Sterling.

Elsewhere in the conference, Rock Falls with a 3-5 record travels to Rochelle who have a 1-7 mark but have shown vast improvement recently.

Princeton with a 3-5 mark, the certain third place DeKalb (5-2), Hall Township, (2-6) entertains fourth place Geneseo (5-3).

In local area games, Ashton is at Oregon, Mt. Morris visits Mt. Carroll, and Lee Center is at Shabbona.

President's Cold War Moves May Take Time to Develop

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — In waging its psychological war against the Russians the Eisenhower administration will have to think of the psychological effect at home.

In the long run the degree of support the administration gets for its efforts will depend on the understanding of the people of what's happening and why.

If some of what the administration has done so far seems vague it may be because it is part of a larger plan which is being unfolded quietly and won't be fully known for some time.

Purpose Unknown

Publicly the administration so far has announced two intentions but has not, it seems, disclosed their full and ultimate purpose.

Both were announced by President Eisenhower in his State of the Union message:

1. He said he'd tell the Seventh Fleet to let the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa attack the Communist mainland. Since this is what they have been doing for a year anyway, it may have made the Russians and Chinese Communists wonder if something more drastic was in store for them. The denaturalization of the fleet caused some puzzlement here and among the Western Allies.

2. Eisenhower also said that this country should reject secret war-time agreements with foreign governments which permitted enslavement of any peoples. It was assumed he meant the Yalta agreement to let the people of Eastern Europe choose their own governments in free elections.

Cites GOP Platform

The Republican campaign platform pledged, if the party won, that secret agreements made by the Democrats would be repudiated.

Eisenhower didn't go so far as the platform. He didn't call for "repudiation." He knew that if he did the Russians might retaliate by repudiating agreements with this country.

In the end what Eisenhower asked Congress to approve in resolution form was a very much watered-down version. In effect, he asked Congress to condemn the Russians for playing dirty pool and to say this country would never approve enslavement of any peoples.

Some members of his own party in Congress are now wrangling with his administration over this. They want a tougher resolution, but Secretary of State Dulles yesterday asked them to let Eisenhower's proposals stand as is.

Important Act

"This resolution," Dulles said, "is no call to bloody and senseless revolution. On the other hand it is no idle gesture. It is an act of great historical importance and many consequences will stem from it."

"As its purpose becomes more and more widely understood, it will, over the coming years, revive the inherent longing for freedom which persists within the captive peoples so that longing becomes a mounting spiritual power which will eventually overcome the material power of Soviet dictatorship."

Just what consequences would flow from this resolution, Dulles didn't say.

He was asking Congress and the people to take his wisdom on faith.

Stevenson Asks Demos to 'Harvest Unity' in Crisis

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson asked some 1,200 Democratic austerity diners Thursday night to "never sow division when it is so important to harvest unity."

They applauded his plea and also his declaration that "while we may be a defeated party, we are not a beaten party."

"I for one hope and pray that we shall be spared the spectacle of Democratic orators taking a leaf from recent history and mouthing nonsense about 'Eisenhower's War,'" he said. "Rather we stay out of office forever than win it back that way."

This was an apparent reference to Republican cries of "Truman's War" in the last campaign.

Austerity Menu

Adherents of the defeated Democratic presidential candidate filled the Biltmore hotel bowl for a "Western States austerity dinner."

The $100-a-plate menu included split pea soup, corned beef and cabbage, boiled new potatoes, apple pie with cheese and coffee.

Stevenson said, "Upon the new President have been laid great burdens in a time of peril for us all. As he labors under their crushing weight, he will have our good will, our good wishes, and our prayers."

In a dig at the GOP, the ex-Illinois governor remarked: "... In the resolution he has just proposed, the President has repudiated the Republican campaign mythology about dark and sinister agreements at Yalta, Tehran and Potsdam."

The proposed Eisenhower resolution would denounce Russia for violating World War II agreements with the United States by enslaving free peoples. The resolution is an apparent change of position from that proclaimed by the President in his Feb. 2 State of the Union message.

He said then he would ask Congress to make clear that the U. S. recognizes no commitment "contained in secret understandings of the past with foreign governments which permit" enslavement of foreign peoples.

Plans Rest

Stevenson plans to rest and visit friends in the Los Angeles area this weekend and fly to San Francisco Sunday evening. He sails Monday on a trip around the world.

Stevenson told the diners that many questions await resolution by the Congress and the people.

"One of the first is tidelands oil. On this issue I have long since expressed my views. But, however, the Congress may decide the question, let us make sure that it does not set in motion the piecemeal dismemberment of our great public domain which is held for the benefit of all the people of the United States."

The former Illinois governor added: "There are those who interpret the election as heralding an open season for the retail and wholesale transfer to the states of our

Prof. McCarthy Heckler, Fined $1 After Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — Dale Pontius, a political science professor was convicted Thursday of disorderly conduct stemming from his heckling Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) during a televised campaign speech.

The minimum sentence, a one dollar fine, was set by a Municipal Court jury. The jury could have fined Pontius up to $200. The charge was placed against Pontius, 47, last Oct. 27 after he was arrested for interrupting McCarthy's nation-wide television broadcast in behalf of President Eisenhower.

Pontius, a professor at Roosevelt College, paid one fine and said he would not appeal. Judge Cecil Corbett Smith estimated the two-day trial cost the city $250.

Students Boycott Kansas City School After Faculty Firings

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A dispute over administration of the University of Kansas City has erupted into a campus-wide controversy, including student boycotts and revolt against the school's president.

An estimated 500 of the university's 1,880 students voted at a mass meeting to boycott classes, at least until noon today when another mass meeting was scheduled.

The Law School faculty voted an expression of "no confidence" in Dr. Clarence R. Decker, university president since 1938. Students circulated petitions declaring a "complete lack of confidence in Dr. Decker and university policies."

Two-fold Problem
President Decker said he believed the problem was twofold:

1. A struggle between personalities who have gotten on each other's nerves.

2. A struggle for power within the university.

Resignation of four top school administrators Wednesday brought the dispute into the open.

Decker termed the resignations a "palace revolution" and told a student mass meeting to judge him "with mercy and wisdom."

He characterized the situation as "a family problem that has been tossed into the hands of the public" and added:

"When anyone washes his dirty linen in public such actions are bound to hurt the university."

Blaine President
The four faculty members who resigned contended the president was the greatest single obstacle to sound growth of the school.

They were Dr. Robert Mortvedt, vice president; Dr. Norman N. Royall Jr., dean of the Liberal Arts School; Dr. Theodore T. Dittich, dean of pharmacy; and Dr. John E. Barnett, registrar and assistant dean of liberal arts.

The resignations of Mortvedt and Royall were accepted immediately by the university trustees, who endorsed Decker's administration.

No action has been taken on the other two.

BALTIMORE (AP)—"Get back copper, I've seen dozens of those tin badges," snarled the gunman.

His two companions stepped aside and he fired twice. One slug wounded an off-duty policeman, Sgt. Otto Urban, and the other struck 12-year-old Evelyn Pollin.

Neither was hurt seriously.

Sgt. Urban noticed the three in the alley near the Pollin home Thursday and went over to investigate.

Police are looking for the snarling gunman. Sgt. Urban estimates his age at "about 15."

McCormick Mansion to Be Wrecked

CHICAGO (AP)—The 41-room home of the late Harold and Edith Rockefeller McCormick, a landmark on Chicago's Gold Coast since the late 1870's goes under the wrecking ball Wednesday.

The big stone mansion overlooking Lake Michigan and occupying an entire city block will be replaced by a seven million dollar apartment and business project.

The mansion was built in the late 1870s by Nathaniel Jones, a commission merchant. It was later occupied by Gen. Joseph T. Torrence.

The McCormicks purchased the home in 1897, two years after their marriage, and turned it into one of the centers of Chicago's social life.

Mrs. McCormick was the daughter of John D. Rockefeller, multimillionaire Standard Oil tycoon. McCormick was the son of Cyrus H. McCormick, famous in reaper history. The couple was divorced in 1921.

Mrs. McCormick continued to reign in society with the mansion as her headquarters until 1930. But the mansion was closed in 1932 and she moved across Lake Shore Drive to the Drake Hotel where she died in August of that year.

For a while the home was used as a private school. In recent years it has stood empty.

Harold L. Perlman, attorney for the Chicago syndicate that purchased the site last December, said a 22 story apartment building will be erected. Next to the four million dollar apartment, he said a $2,500,000 office building will be built.

Perlman said he and his associates paid about one million dol-

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pugh observed their 57th wedding anniversary while Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sherwins, who are related by marriage to the Pughs, observed their 62nd wedding anniversary.

The Pughs have four daughters, five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. The Sherwins have a son, a daughter, four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

One daughter of the Pughs is married to Wilmot Sherwins of nearby Franklinville. They will observe their 33rd wedding anniversary in June.

Thief Chooses Porkchop Diet

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A thief in nearby McKees Rocks doesn't have to worry about the high price of meat for awhile.

Officers reported the driver of a truck carrying 3,200 pounds of pork from a Dayton, Ohio, packing firm stopped in a restaurant for a cup of coffee Thursday night.

A few hours later police found the truck on a nearby road without its cargo of hams, bacon, fresh pork, head cheese, spare-ribs and kidneys.

Dancer Called In West Coast Commie Quiz

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dancer Libby Burke received a subpoena Thursday to appear before the House Un-American Activities Committee in Los Angeles next month.

William Wheeler, special investigator for the committee, said the 32-year-old Miss Burke had been an organizer for the Communist party in California.

Wheeler said Miss Burke is a member of the Western Board of the Television Authority, a union of TV writers and actors.

Wheeler's statement said the dancer had been an organizer for the Communists' "special section" in Alameda county, Calif.

Testimony before state and congressional committees by former Communists has declared the special section was for the purpose of conducting espionage work and recruiting staff members of the University of California's radiation laboratory who were engaged in atomic research.

Asked to comment on Wheeler's statement, Miss Burke said:

"No, I wouldn't. You can't give an honest answer these days. When I appear on the 23rd, I'll have my say."

"An atmosphere has been created that makes it impossible to speak openly and honestly."

"I'm so tired of hearing about spy scares. I feel people's minds are going up in smoke. It's quite unbelievable."
